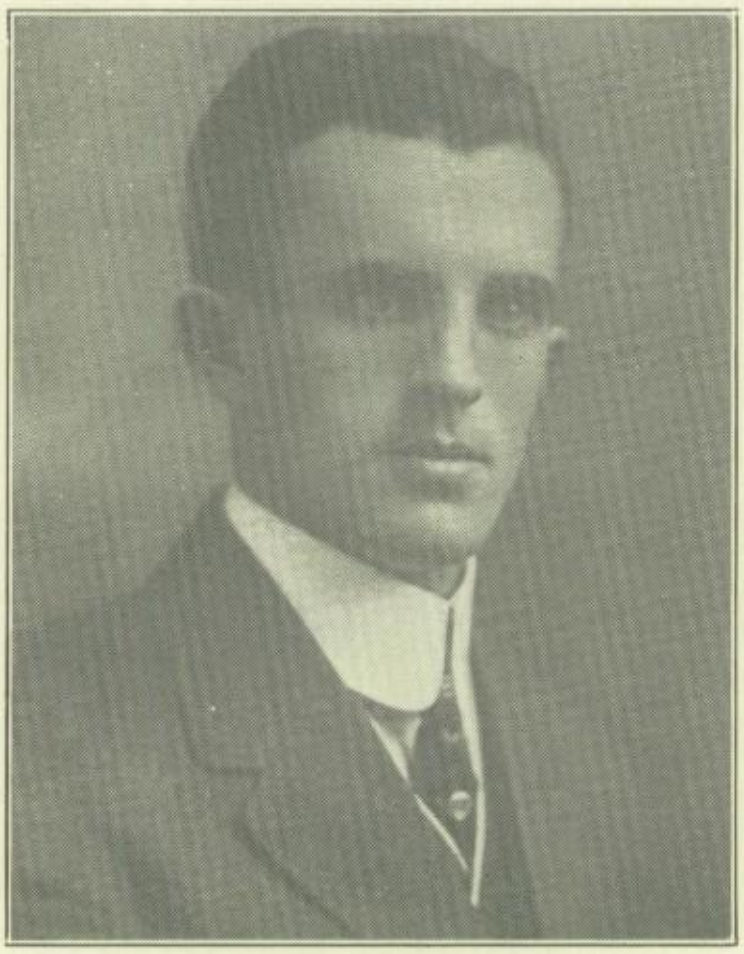
Foreword

ANOTHER chapter in the history of Webster High School is nearly finished; another class has almost reached its goal; graduates will soon make their adieus to their Alma Mater. What the succeeding chapters will portray is uncertain but, if they are in any measure, comparable to those of the past, they will be interesting indeed.

It is with the hope of keeping alive the pleasant memories of the happiest time of life that the Reveille Staff of Webster High School gathers a partial account of the happenings and the associations of '27 and submits them to you, the student body and its friends, hoping that you may find interest in the activities recorded in these pages.

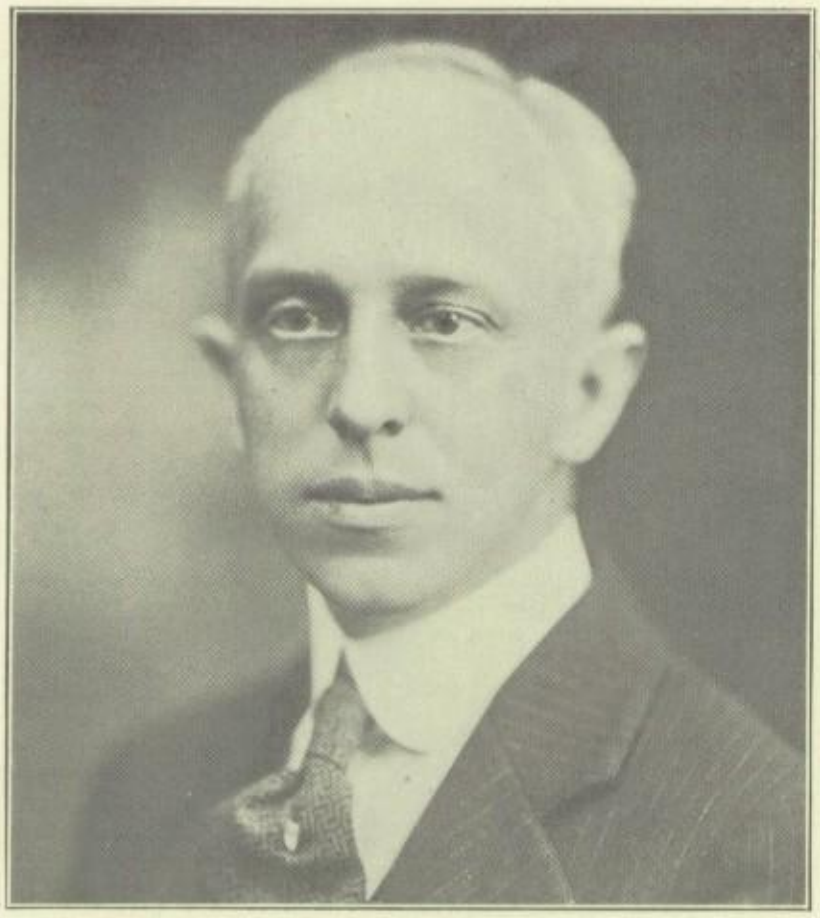
The Reveille this year has a three-fold purpose—to bring before the minds of the members of the class of '27 in later days, a clear picture of their high school life; to kindle in the hearts of future classes a loyal love for their Alma Mater; to bring evidence to the members of the faculty that their work has not been in vain, but has achieved a lasting success and a large measure of appreciation. How well this has been accomplished we leave to the judgment of the readers.



MR. R. L. THOMAS

Dedication

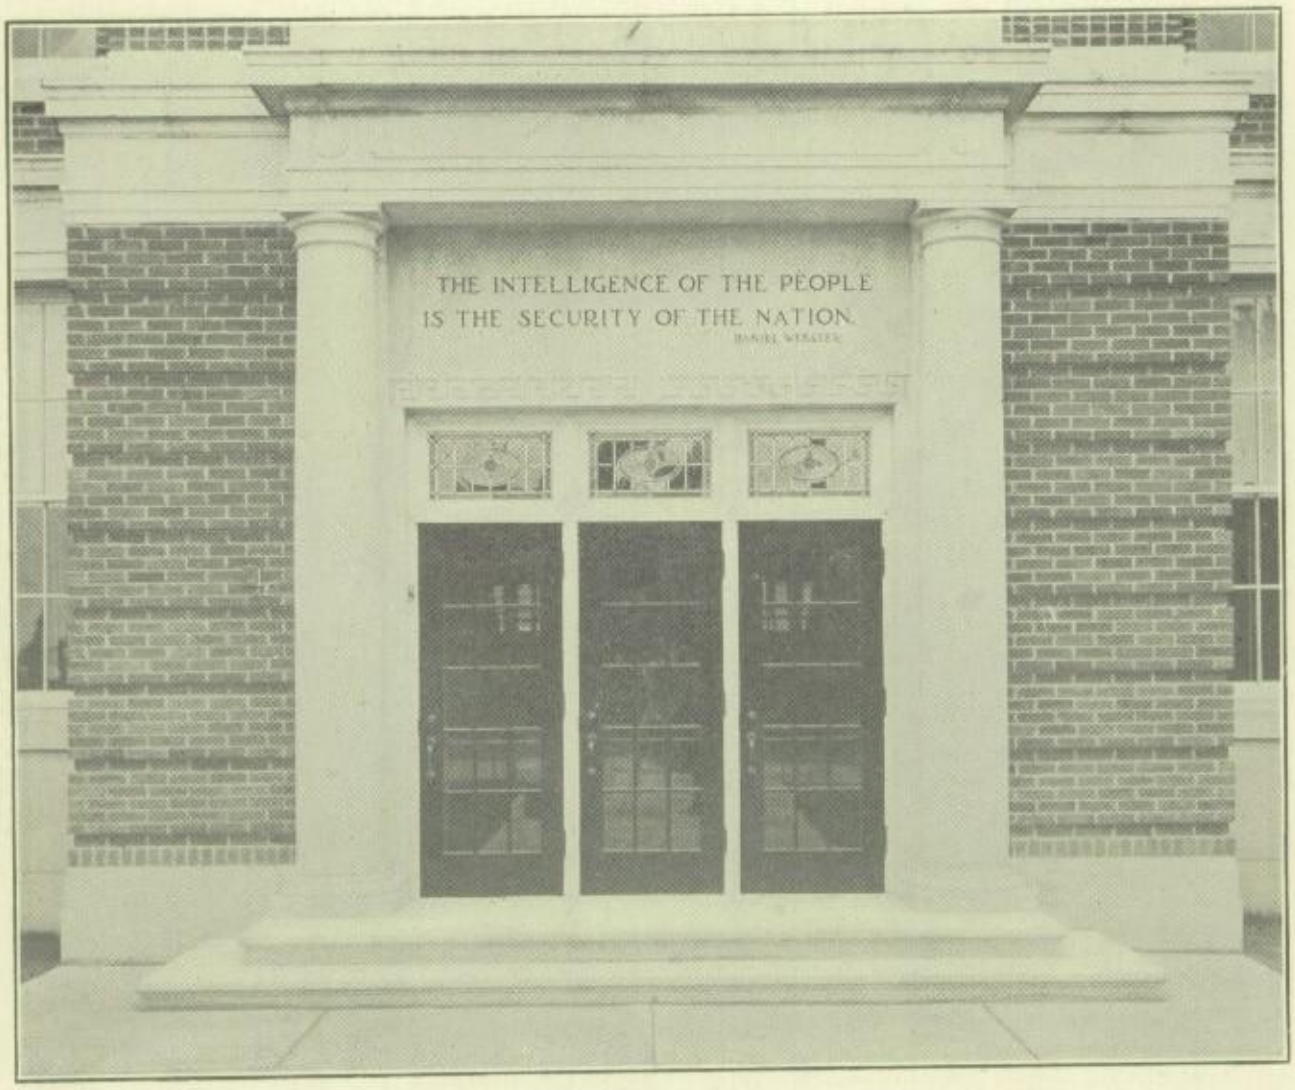
TO Mr. R. L. Thomas, in acknowledgment of his constant support in student affairs and in appreciation of his willing efforts and personal interest, the class of '27 dedicates this book.



MR. E. W. SPRY

Appreciation

WE, the class of '27 wish, at this time, to express to Mr. E. W. Spry our sincere appreciation of his untiring efforts, his wise counsel, and his loyal friendship, all of which have aided us in reaching our goal—graduation. Although Mr. Spry is no longer in Webster High School, his influence prevails and will always be a potent factor in our lives.



PORTAL OF SCHOOL

Alma Mater

Where the Ridge Road forms a border,
For the lake and sky;
Proudly stands our Alma Mater,
Dear old Webster High.

CHORUS

Flag of W. H. S. floats for aye,
Old Webster High o'er thee;
May thy sons be leal and loyal
To thy memory.

When the evening twilight deepens
And the shadows fall,
Lingers long the golden sunset
On thy western wall.

Soon after the beginning of this school year, the Faculty of W. H. S. was organized into a club with Esther Dunn, president, and Mary Fillmore, secretary and treasurer. The object of this organization was the promotion of good-fellowship among its members, and the pursuit of knowledge. The first object was obtained by means of parties held every two weeks in the kindergarten of the school; the second, by means of the Book Club, to which each of the members contributed a book. These books were put on the shelves of the library for faculty use. The group also joined the Book-of-the-Month-Club and these books are to be given as permanent additions to the library.

When school convenes in the fall, many of the present members will not be journeying back to Webster, those who will not answer to the roll-call are: Arlona Elliot, Lelah Blanchard, Harold Suttle, Ina Thompson, Alice Schryver, Kahn Musa, Janet DeRoos, Gladys Saunders, Mary Fillmore.

Sportsmanship Brotherhood

THE Webster chapter of the Sportsmanship Brotherhood, which was organized in June, 1926, is part of a national organization which has chapters in thirty-two states of the union.

Each year enough members are elected to fill vacancies caused by graduation. For a school the size of Webster High the membership is limited to twenty members, ten of which are boys and ten are girls.

The purpose of the organization is to promote the spirit of sportsmanship in the student body and among the different schools having athletic relations with Webster High.

Owing to the fact that the chapter was not organized until May, not much was accomplished until October, when Jerome Bishop was elected President and regular meetings were held.

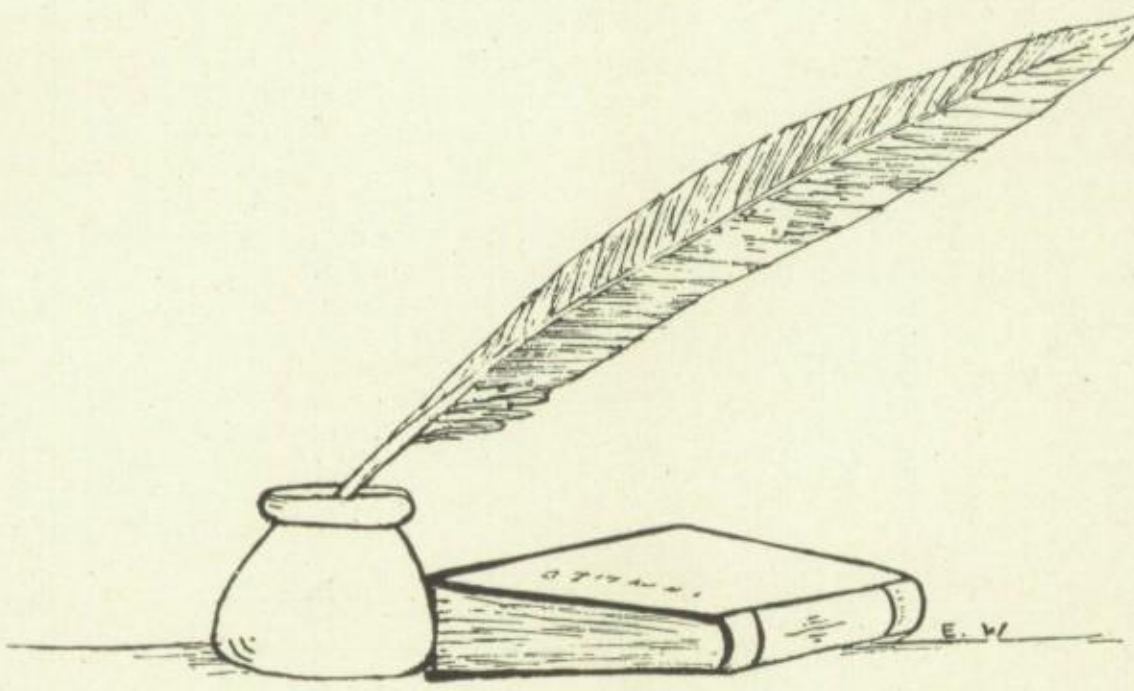
The big event of the year was the State Convention which was held at Buffalo on March 25. Webster High was represented by two delegates, Elmer Finch and Marshall Delavan, who brought back to the Student's Association a detailed report.

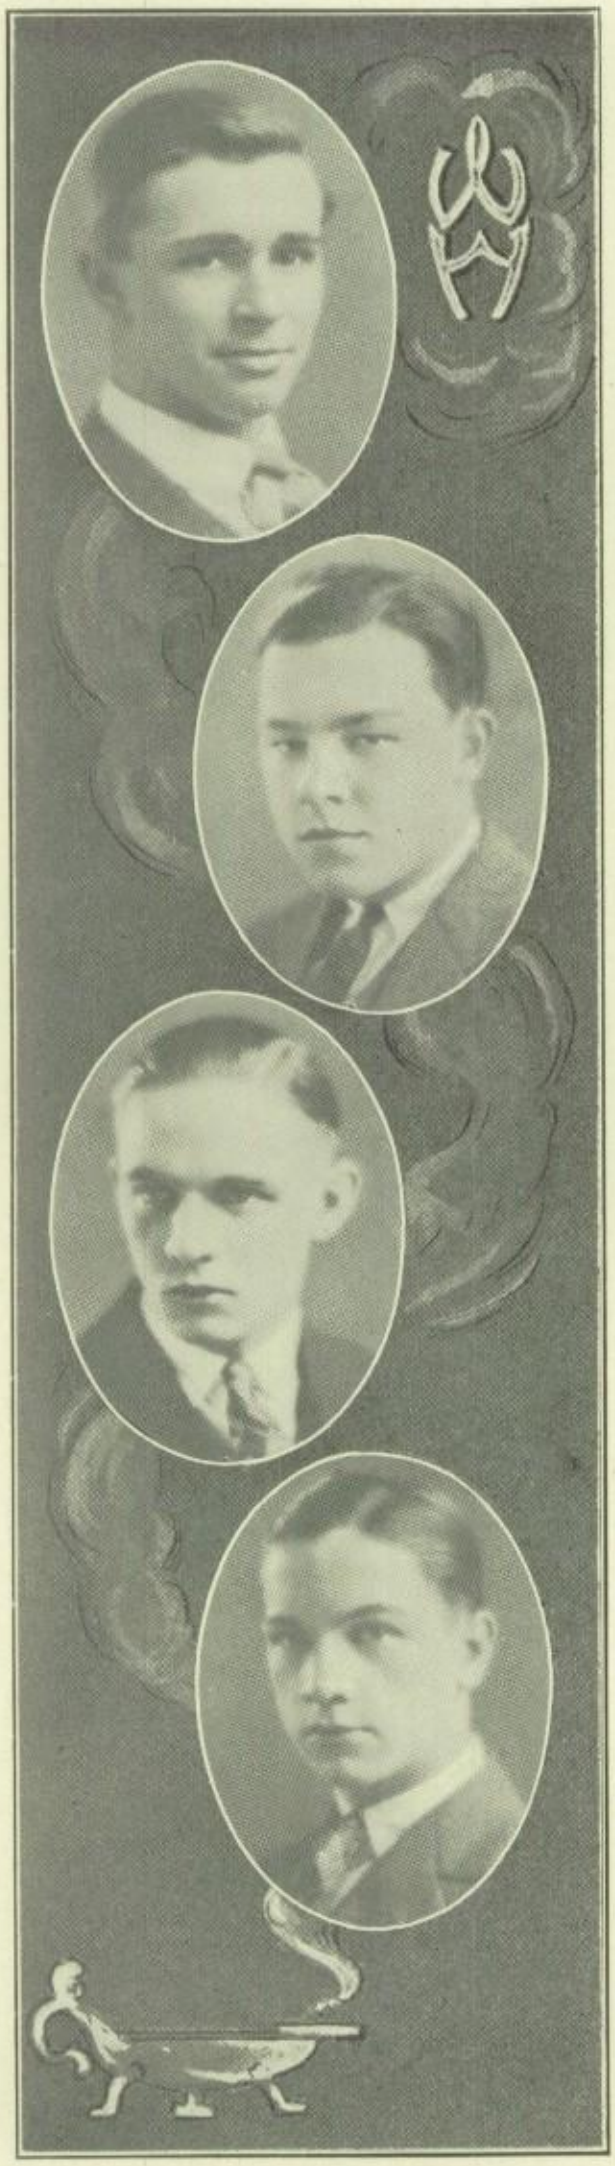
Although the society is not very old in years, we hope to hear more of its activities in the future.

Code of Sportsman

The code of honor of a sportsman is that—
He keep the rules.
He keep faith with his comrade, play the game for his side.
He keep himself fit.
He keep his temper.
He keep from hitting a man when he is down.
He keep his pride under in victory.
He keep a stout heart in defeat accepted with good grace.
He keep a sound soul and a clean mind in a healthy body.

CLASSES





HAROLD AMAN "Judge"

I like agriculture and I'll probably farm it all my life.
But say, I forgot something, I want
also a wife.

Cattle Judging Team (2); Inter-Class Basket Ball (2, 3, 4); Track (4); Secretary of Agriculture Club (4).

Undecided.

FRANC HEAVER ANDREWS "Dad"

Heaver doesn't agree that variety is the spice of life,
He says—Why not choose just the one
Whom you intend to make your wife?

AGAIN, as this book reaches its many readers, another class is graduating from Webster High School. For four long years, its members have struggled under the guiding hand of Alma Mater to reach this goal—the graduation of 1927.

Yet, looking back to that dreary, rainy morning in September, 1923, when more than seventy-five freshmen assembled to take up their duties, the time is all too short. New members joined, while others left the ranks and at present the class numbers forty-three Seniors.

As Freshmen they were ushered into a new life, and so interesting was the work, and the time so occupied, that these Freshmen developed into Sophomores almost as rapidly as dawn into morning.

Again new subjects and new events held the attention of the members. The building of the treasury was delayed until the Junior year when "Honor Bright," the Junior Play, brought forth kinsfolk and acquaintances whose support made secure the financial success of the class. Social activities were not lacking during the Junior year, and long will be remembered the party at Gordon Finn's home and the good time had at the Junior Prom.

At length will be recorded the events of the Senior Year, the crowning year in the life of the class of '27 in Webster. As the soldier fights harder in view of victory, so did the Seniors labor on more earnestly with an eager desire to reach their goal.

Privileged with the use of a special home room, the Seniors, upon leaving school will take with them the memory of the pleasant times and lasting friendships formed by closer relations with one another.

Neither were good times lacking in the Senior Year. On Hallowe'en the "spooks and goblins" entertained the class at Gerald McGuire's home. The Senior Ball, a pronounced success, was held December 23rd, in the school gymnasium.

One other party held April 8th, in the gymnasium, and the Easter Tour to Washington, conducted by Mr. and Mrs. Thomas, were the remaining social events of the year.

After Easter the time was devoted mainly to the strengthening of the intellect in preparation for the June Regents and Commencement week.

The Senior Class owes its success to the willing assistance of a capable faculty and primarily to its class advisor, Miss Knight and to Mr. Spry who spent three and a half years with them. Also do they owe a great deal to Mr. Thomas who guided them through the last half of the Senior Year.

Russell DeWitt—Sees no evil, hears no evil, speaks no evil.
Kenneth Quimby—A gentleman, a scholar and a Junior.

SOPHOMORE CLASS

Sophomore Notes

WHEN the school year opened there were forty-five members in the Sophomore Class. A class meeting was held and the following officers elected for the year:

President—Elizabeth Raymond. Secretary—Ethel Herman. Vice-President—Thelma Wooster. Treasurer—Beatrice Shoemaker.

Members of the cabinet for the first semester were: Helen Bassage and Mac Bader.

Members for the second semester were: Beatrice Shoemaker and William Brewer.

Members of the House of Representatives for the first semester were: Erma Busch, Ethel Herman, Ovid Fry, Christine Hockenberger, Elwyn Leaty, Robert Scott, Thelma Wooster, Beatrice Shoemaker, Jessamine VanIngen.

For the second semester the members of the House were: Ethel Herman, Erma Busch, Ovid Fry, Christine Hockenberger, Robert Scott, Mac Bader, Thelma Wooster, Elizabeth Raymond.

The class won five dollars as a result of the Chautauqua ticket selling contest.

Several social events have been enjoyed during the year, one of which was a Hallowe'en Party held at the home of Leila Francis. This was well attended and greatly enjoyed by all.

In January the Sophomore adviser left W. H. S. to teach in Monroe High School, Rochester. It was with great regret that the students saw Miss Manwaring go, and although they have missed her, Miss White has filled her place splendidly.

Ethel Herman, having suffered a nervous break down, left school and a new Secretary, Elwyn Leaty, was elected to fill her place.

The class was allotted a third of the program for the "Brainstorm of '27" and it was decided to present "The Crimson Cocoanut." Even though the "Brainstorm" was postponed, the Soph's play was given one afternoon, a small admission being charged to help get money toward their Washington trip.

THE CAST OF "THE CRIMSON COCOANUT"

Nitro Gliserinski, an anarchist.....ELWYN LEATY
Madame Gliserinski.....CHRISTINE HOCKENBERGER
Mr. Jabstick..... MAC BADER
Nancy Jabstick, his daughter.....EDITH SCHARETT
Jack Pincher of Scotland Yard.....CLARENCE SCHARETT
Robert, a waiter.....ROBERT SCOTT

A splendid spirit of co-operation has been found in the class of '29. This means that in the future years of the Soph's school life they will be very successful, for they realize that life is both work and play.

CLASS COLOR—CRIMSON AND GRAY

WHEN Webster High School opened last September, there were ninety students enrolled in the Freshman class, but today we have one hundred and five students.

We have been so busy with important affairs of our class and other High School activities that we have had no time for parties this year.

We are proud of the record made by our boys' basket-ball team, which succeeded in trimming the Seniors and Sophomores.

In the time limit contest for the collecting of the Student's Association dues, the Freshmen came in first.

Soon after the class was organized the question of a banner was taken up and from several designs submitted, the class banner was chosen.

Just a few weeks more and our class as Freshmen, will pass into history, and it is our desire that when we move out of room "twenty two" we shall leave behind an atmosphere of inspiration for those who will move in next September, and when we enter room "Twenty-four" it is our purpose to carry with us the spirit of ambition that will place the record of the Sophomore Class the highest in the history of Webster High.

Senior Easter Tour

THIRTEEN members of the class of '27 left Webster, Friday, April 15th, on a trip which continued through eight memorable days. The Washington trip was thoroughly enjoyed by everyone—but how could it be otherwise with Miss Stone as chaperone and Mr. and Mr. Thomas as leaders? In the party there were a number of other high schools including: Livonia, Lima, Fairport, Nunda, Hemlock, Dalton, and Manchester. The people from these schools proved to be excellent travelling companions and many pleasant friendships were made.

Having spent Friday on the train, the party arrived in Washington about 9:45 and was glad of the comfortable accommodations at the Arlington.

Saturday was a full day. The first place of interest visited was the Arlington Cemetery, the next, Alexandria. However, Mount Vernon was the center of attraction, one of the special features of this part of the trip being the return to Washington by the steamer Charles MacAlester. The day ended with a trip through the Smithsonian and the new National Museums. Sunday, being Easter, drew the members of the party to church and some were fortunate to see President and Mrs. Coolidge. The afternoon was spent in the Zoo and at the Franciscan Monastery, while the evening was passed in an enjoyable visit to the Congressional Library. Monday morning the Seniors visited the Capitol and saw the most interesting building in the country. The afternoon was spent in visiting the Pan-American Building, the Red Cross Building, the Washington Monument and the Aircraft Building. Some might call this a full day, but the Seniors didn't for Mr. and Mrs. Thomas gave a reception and dance, at the Colonial Hotel that evening and all were present. Tuesday morning occurred the sight seeing trip and visit to the Lincoln Memorial. Then the party saw how money and stamps are made at the Bureau of Engraving and Printing. The Corcoran Art Gallery, which was next visited, was very interesting. The afternoon was spent in seeing Annapolis.

A visit was made to the State, War and Navy Building, the United States Treasury, and the President's private yacht, "The Mayflower," Wednesday morning. That afternoon the Seniors saw the last of Washington as they were off for Philadelphia for two more delightful days. In the evening they enjoyed a theatre party at Keith's.

Thursday morning was spent sight seeing in Philadelphia and in visiting the Curtis Publishing Company. The afternoon was free but everyone availed himself of the opportunity to visit Wanamaker's Store.

At 8:40 Friday evening, after having spent a delightful day in Atlantic City, the Seniors left for Rochester where they arrived early Saturday morning—sorry that their trip was at an end.

FOOT BALL TEAM

Foot Ball

WHEN the call for football was sent out last fall, a large squad reported to the coach, Harold Suttle, and assistant coach, Robert Congdon.

In the group were a goodly number of regulars from the previous year.

The players worked hard and faithfully under the coaching of Mr. Suttle and Mr. Congdon. These two men turned out a team which, although it was not as heavy as it should have been, was fast and had the fighting spirit.

Manager Marshall Delavan arranged a schedule of six games, of which the local team won five. The season opened with Scottsville at Webster. This game ended in a victory for Webster, the score being 32 to 0.

The season progressed and the men continued to work hard and to win games. Webster's one defeat was suffered at the hands of Fairport by a score of 12 to 0.

The games and the scores were:

Webster	32	Scottsville	0
Webster	7	Albion	6
Webster	14	Newark	0
Webster	15	Avon	6
Webster	0	Fairport	12
Webster	32	Caledonia	0

The positions of the regulars were: left end, Wood; left tackle, Andrews; left guard, Fosdick; center, Captain McGuire; right guard, Hockenberger; right tackle, Shoemaker; right end, Pinkley; left halfback, Straub; quarterback, J. Bishop; fullback, D. Bishop; right halfback, Mossgraber. The substitutes were: halfback, Warner; right halfback, Stuber; fullback, Vandy; tackle, Forman, Biccum, Benjamin; end, Engert, Frisbie; guard, Leaty, Raymond, Partridge.

GIRLS' BASKET BALL TEAM

Girls' Basket Ball

WHEN the first call for girl basket-ball recruits was sounded, plenty of new material turned out for practice. From these a squad of twelve was picked and then work started in earnest. The first game was with Pittsford, and though it proved a defeat for W. H. S., the difference in the scores was not large and the team was by no means discouraged.

Just as the squad was working up in fine shape it lost two of its best players. The loss of these stellar forwards set the team back greatly, but, in the face of certain defeat in most of the games, the six players who went on the floor did their best to lessen the odds against them.

Although the season was not what one might call "a howling success" the girls feel that the experience gained, and the lessons learned in "playing the game" were well worth the trouble and the time.

The members of the team were slightly disappointed in not receiving their new suits which would have been a welcome change from those of past years but, as one optimistically put it, "It isn't the suits that make the team."

The girls wish to thank Miss Witzler for her efficient coaching and good fellowship throughout the season. They appreciate her prowess with the basket-ball and only hope that they have gained a small measure of this skill.

The team wishes to extend its sincere appreciation and thanks to those who so kindly furnished transportation.

The writer feels that it is safe to say that every girl who went out for the team is glad that she did so, regardless of whether she made good or not. Everyone had a chance, no partiality was shown, and each one was imbued with the spirit of playing the game as it ought to be played—fairly and squarely.

Below is a table of the games played and their outcome:

BASKET BALL TEAM

Boys' Basket Ball

LAST fall when Coach Congdon issued his call for candidates for basketball, about thirty-five fellows responded. Among these were six letter men and others who had played on the reserve team last year. This lot was very promising, but soon the squad was cut down by ineligibilities and for various other reasons. With the opening game, only two weeks after the first practice, the outlook was discouraging. However, the team soon displayed some brilliant basketball feats, and won words of praise from several sportsmen of this section. Later in the season, officials and spectators at the Owego game declared that they had never before seen such floor-work as was displayed by Webster on that court. The team won only eight games this year, but this is not a poor record, for several of the teams that scored over the locals were from high schools and academies much larger than W. H. S. Five of the Webster victories were in league contests and the team finished the season with third place in the Monroe County League.

Captain Straub showed some fine playing all season, and in only one contest was he held scoreless. He scored 157 points in 21 games. Pinkley proved to be an able running mate for Straub as he scored 124 points in 23 games while Wood and Brewer showed themselves to be dependable substitutes for the forward positions. Although the smallest center in the league, Andrews played clever basketball and was able to get the tip-off from many of the larger men. In 23 games he scored 70 points. Mossgraber proved to be well qualified to step into Andrew's shoes at any time. D. Bishop and McGuire had charge of the back court positions. The former scored 72 points in 20 games while the latter scored 43 points in 24 games. J. Bishop was ready to play either back court positions at any time. The team's schedule was well arranged by manager Sutorius.

Under the coaching of Mr. Suttle the reserve team had a fairly successful season, winning five of the ten games played. Stuber and Brewer held down the forward positions; Contant played center; J. Bishop and Shoemaker were guards. Second team substitutes were Frisbie, Hockenberger, Warner, Benjamin, Partridge, Baker and Vandy.

BASE BALL TEAM

Base Ball

EARLY this spring the Webster High Team began to practice and, as there were seven letter-men back from the previous year, the boys looked forward to a successful season under Coach Congdon, a former St. Lawrence star.

The battery which was composed of Straub, on the receiving end, and Contant, King and Bishop, doing the hurling, was considered capable of holding up it's end of the game in good style. "Connie" who pitched for West Webster in the D. and C. League, was expected to be the mainstay, while in King and Bishop, the team seemed to have two first class pitchers to relieve "Connie."

The infield this year which was composed of four veterans was very strong. King, at first base; Brewer at second; Captain Wood, at third; and Summerville, at short; was the way the infield lined up and the manner in which this combination fielded and worked together was enough to cause any opposing team to retire.

The outfield this year was taken care of by Marchner, Shoemaker, and McGuire, three veterans from last year, who seemed to be able to take care of any flies that were hit.

The following men made up the substitutes: Warner, Andrews, Mossgraber, Stuber, Booth, Beacum, and Pinkley.

The first game was on April 27, at East Rochester and resulted in a victory for East Rochester. This defeat, however, did not seem as bad when one took into consideration the fact that the team had had only two weeks of outside practice and that the game was played on a strange field. The players were not disheartened by this initial defeat and set out with new vigor to produce a winning team.

The schedule was as follows:

April 27—East Rochester.
*April 29—Fairport High.
*May 4—Monroe High.
*May 10—Aquinas Institute.
May 13—U. of R. Freshmen.
*May 24—Albion High.
*May 27—East Rochester.
June 1—Aquinas Institute.
June 10—Albion High.

STAFF OF WEBSTER HERALD

Station W. H. S.

SHORTLY after the opening of the fall term the advisability of continuing the publication of the "Microphone" was discussed. The chief factor unfavorable to the production of the paper was the financial difficulties experienced with it. When it was decided to abandon the "Microphone," the editors of the two town publications each offered a section of his paper to be devoted to school news.

This plan met instant approval, for there would be no expense connected in publishing the school news and school activities would be given a greater range of publicity.

Thus on December 10, "Station W.H.S." made its initial appearance in the Webster Herald under the supervision of the following staff:

Editor-in-chief, J. Gordon Finn, '27. Reporters: John A. Marchner, '27; Evelyn Munroe, '28; Christine Hockenberger, '29; Clarence Krompart, '30; Dorothy Cook, eighth grade; Donald Smith, seventh grade.

Mr. John Collins, editor of the Herald and co-worker with the student staff, made an attractive arrangement for the heading of the sheet and gave generously of his assistance throughout the school year.

Staff meetings were called each week, "Station W.H.S." faithfully broadcasted every Friday, accounts of school activities, and, incidentally, occasional static.

It is sincerely hoped that "Station W.H.S." during its brief existence has fulfilled its purpose satisfactorily.

STAFF OF WEBSTER FREE PRESS

School News

Last September the subject of school publications came under discussion. Because it was financially impossible for the high school to publish a weekly or monthly paper besides the Reveille, the Student's Association decided that the school news would be published weekly in each of the local papers. Consequently, two staffs were chosen by the cabinet, one for the Webster Herald and one for the Free Press. We of the Free Press—Elmer Finch, Editor-in-Chief; Harriet Finch, Senior Editor; Marion Wilson, Junior Editor; Ovid Fry, Sophomore Editor; Anthony Smith, Freshman Editor; Carl Brucker, 8th Grade, and Charles Statucki, 7th Grade Editors—began our duties at once and endeavored to publish the news of the happenings at W. H. S. in as interesting a manner as possible. We hope we have achieved some measure of success and wish to thank those with whom we have worked for their willing co-operation.

SENIOR PLAY CAST

Senior Play

ON March 18th the Seniors presented the most interesting play (so numerous critics say) which was ever given in Webster.

"And Home Came Ted," a hilarious three act comedy, included in its cast Erma Hartung as the housekeeper, Mollie Macklin, who won the affections of Skeet, the bashful young secretary, whose part was well played by George Suter. The part of the hero and mystery man was excellently portrayed by Alan Hill who finally won the charming heiress, Diana Garwood alias Velma Campbell.

The double role of lawyer and feeble old man was exceedingly well taken by Elmer Finch. The part of his widow, the lady from Honolulu was taken in a pleasing manner by Harriet Finch. The eloping young couple, Ted and Elsie, portrayed by Marshall Delavan and Ethel Darling, created much merriment because of their hunger and fears. The part of the bride's angry father was well taken by Chauncey Frisbie, while John Marchner made the audience believe he really was a deep dyed villian.

Rather difficult parts were admirably taken by Sybil Smith who portrayed the negro cook, Aunt Jubilee, and by Helen Buell who took the part of the fastidious spinster, Miss Loganberry.

The successful presentation of the play was due to Miss Knight's efficient direction and to the effective work of an able business staff. The play will be remembered as one of Webster High's many achievements and the Seniors are truly justified in being proud of their work.

TRACK TEAM

MORE interest has been manifested in Track at Webster High School this spring than ever before. Track is the oldest form of Olympic competition and its revival at the High School two years ago is gratifying. Track is without doubt, the cleanest of American sports and is very conducive to developing a strong physique. It is a sport in which individual superiority rules.

When the first practice for cindermen was called, a large number of aspirants were present. They worked assiduously for three weeks and on May 2, the first meet of the season was held. The purple and gold speedsters journeyed to Sodus to open their season in a dual meet with that school. The Websterites scored a very impressive win over their rivals. Several of the performances of the local athletes where Stuber and Mossgraber, displaying the form of a Paddock or a Scholz, scored easy victories in the 70 and 220 yard dashes. Captain Jerome Bishop and David Bane, soaring through the air like a Hoff or a Carr, tied for first place in the pole vault. Glynn Wood, running like a Helffrich, outdistanced Stevens of Sodus in the 880. Dave Bishop and E. Finn also added points in the 880 and mile runs. McGuire, Straub and Shoemaker, putting the shot with a form similar to a Hartranft or a Hills, took all three places in that event. Straub and McGuire, the fighting captains of basket ball and foot ball respectively, did good work in the broad jump. Others who aided greatly in making the victory possible were: Chris Sutorius, Tom Partridge, Johncox, G. Finn, Oak Dadswell and Weeks. If the first week is any criterion, Webster High School should have an undefeated track team.

The schedule as arranged by the manager, Alan Hill, for this year is as follows:

Sodus—May 2.
*Newark—May 11.
*Sodus—May 18.
J. Marshall High—May 25.

* Home games.

AGRICULTURE TEAM

JUDGING TEAM

THE members of the Judging Teams of the Agricultural Department of Webster High are as follows:

Livestock—Wilfred Weeks, William Brewer, Alvin Hilfiker.

Fruit—Wesley Walters, William Brewer.

Potato—Ovid Fry and Edward Finn.

These members have made a record of which they may well be proud.

As champion cattle judging team of New York State they were awarded a plaque at the State Fair at Syracuse. They won second place at the fruit judging contest at Ithaca where they were awarded a silver cup. In the potato contest at the same city the team won fifth place. At the livestock judging contest, also at Ithaca, fourth place was won and they received a silver cup.

Alvin Hilfiker, representing New York State, participated at the National Dairy Contest held at Detroit.

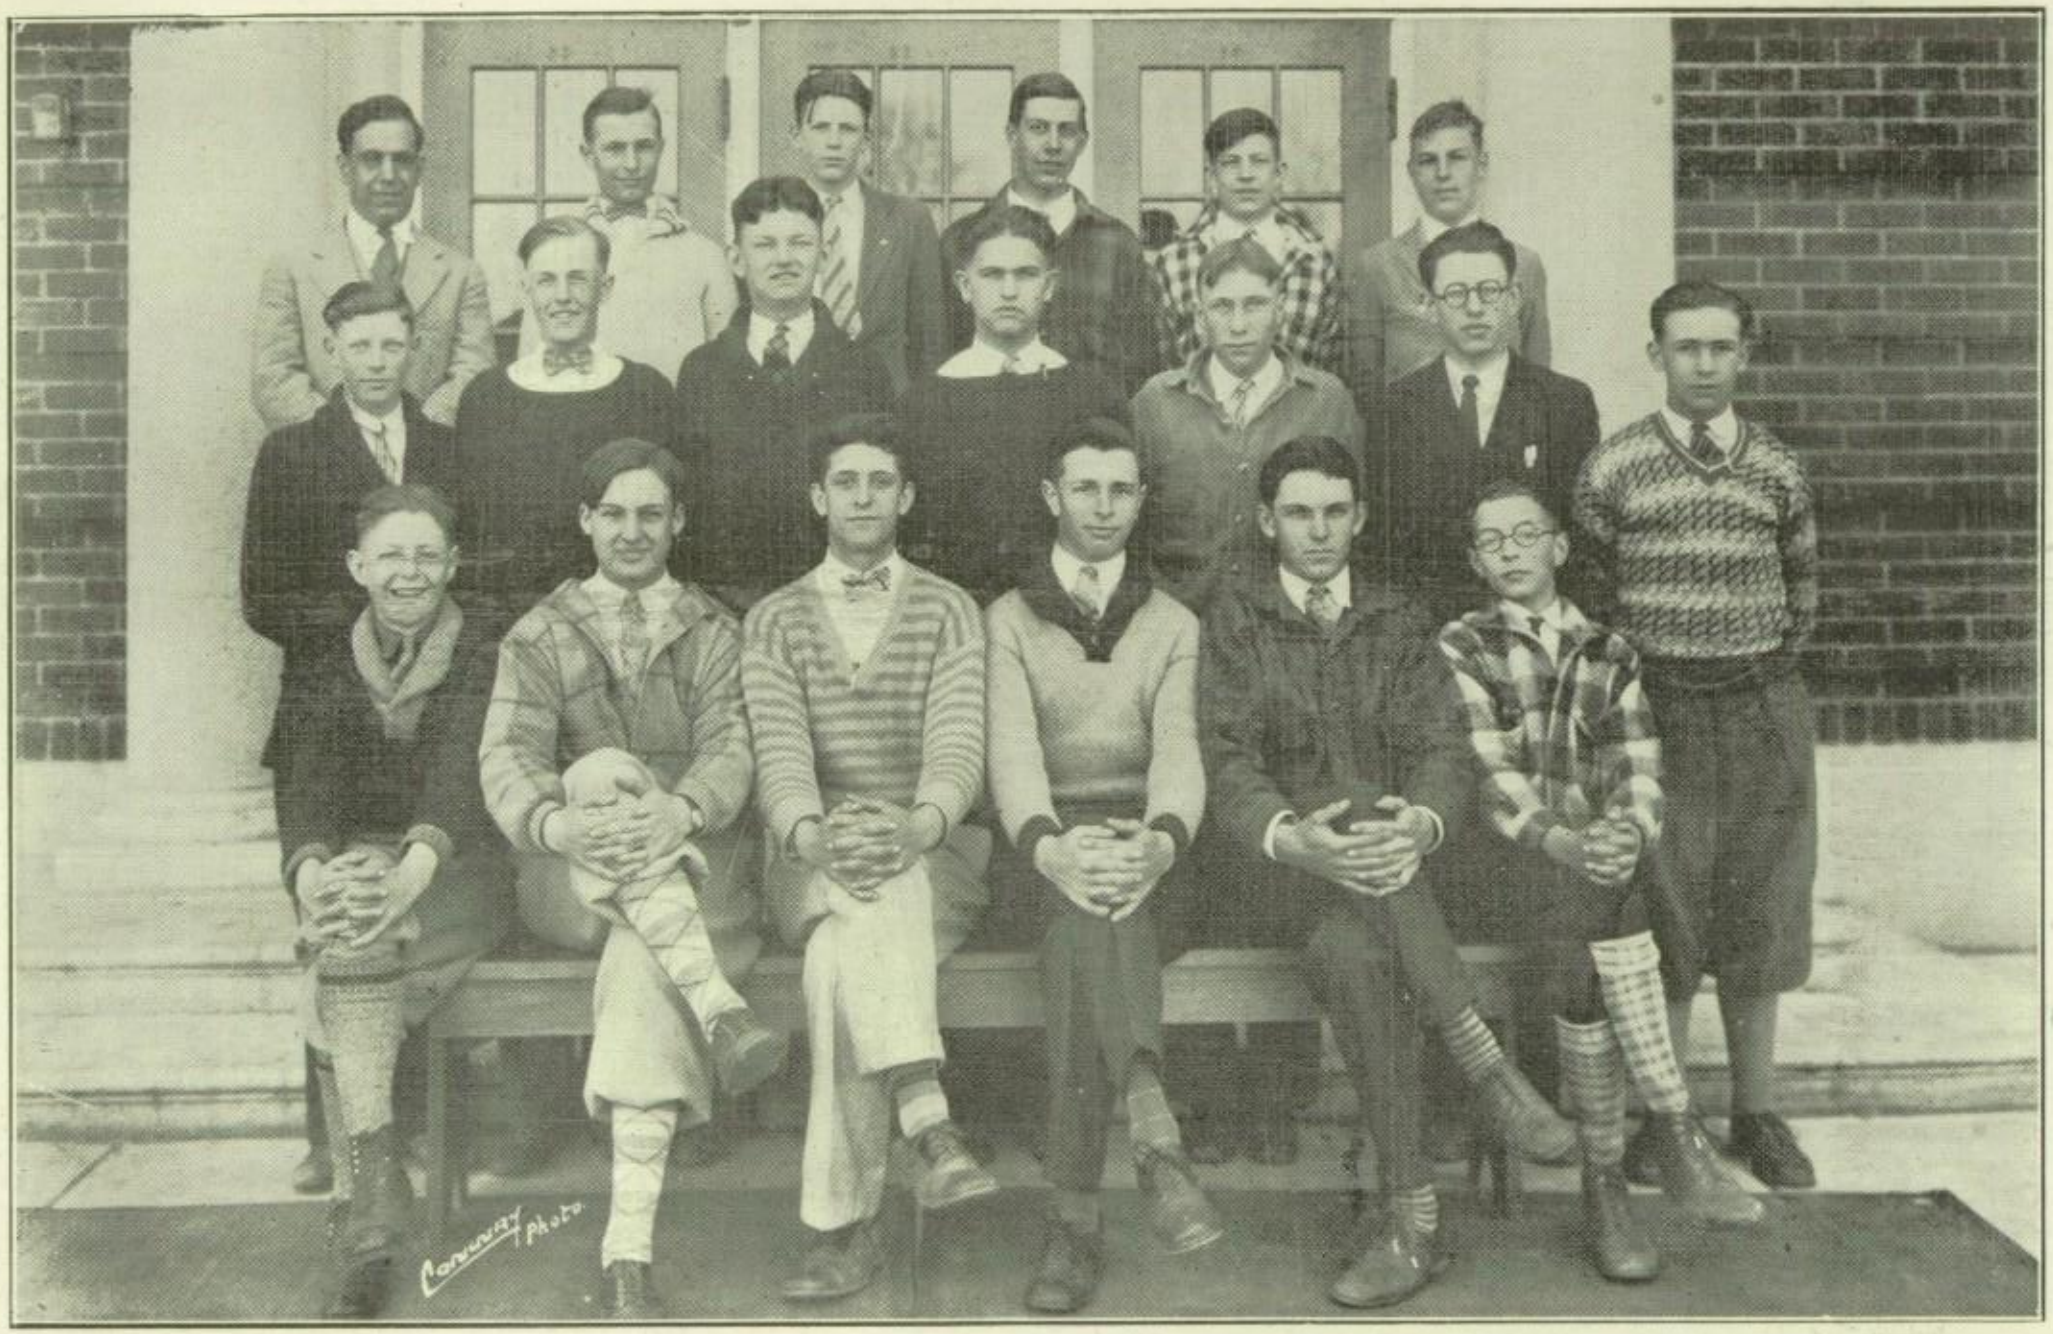
Besides the above mentioned prizes the following medals were presented:

To Alvin Hilfiker, a gold medal awarded by the National Holstein Breeders Association as a result of the national judging contest; also a bronze medal awarded by New York State Department of Education in recognition of membership on the state livestock judging team.

To William Brewer, a gold medal, awarded by New York Ayrshires Breeders Association.

To Wilfred Weeks, a bronze medal, awarded by Webster High School in recognition of membership on the State Champion Team.

The livestock judging team made several trips to the farms of livestock breeders to study the different breeds. The judging teams feel that they have accomplished a great deal during this delightful year.



AGRICULTURE CLUB

Agriculture Club

AT the beginning of the school year there were nineteen members enrolled in the Agricultural Course.

A class meeting was held and the election resulted as follows: President—Harold Contant, Vice-President—Russel DeWitt, Secretary—Harold Aman, Treasurer—William Brewer.

Previous to this time the classes under the management of Harold Contant had gathered fruit for the Rochester Exposition.

The members of the Agriculture Club have made a record of which they may well be proud. The awards this year are as follows: 1. First premium for fruit exhibit at Rochester Exposition, one hundred-fifty dollars. 2. First premium for fruit exhibit at New York Horticultural Society, forty dollars. 3. First premium for judging contest held by New York Horticultural Society, a silver cup. 4. A bronze medal for Harold Contant as chairman of the fruit exhibit.

On October 5th the club sent three members, William Brewer, Wilfred Weeks, and Alvin Hilfiker, accompanied by Mr. Musa and his family, to Detroit to attend the National Dairy Show.

The trip was made by automobile and at Niagara Falls Mr. Glen Wight of Canandaigua and Mr. Weaver of Albany joined the party which reached Detroit on October 7th.

The following day was spent in taking a sight seeing trip around the city. On this trip the Ford Plant was visited and the boys saw how Fords are made at the rate of one per minute.

The contest occurred on Saturday, and on Monday the return trip began. That evening was spent at Wickliffe, near Cleveland, and the party reached home Tuesday evening.

The trip was worth much to the boys for they were thus enabled to observe agricultural practices and different types of farming. They first inspected the fruit section of Western New York and Eastern Canada, then they saw the poorer sections of Canada, and farther west the prosperous alfalfa and beef cattle region was noticed. Through Michigan and Ohio large fields of grain were seen. The wonderful grape belt, extending from northern Pennsylvania to Sheridan, New York, a distance of fifty miles, was next observed. This whole section seemed to be planted entirely to grapes.

The club has organized a base-ball team with Ovid Fry as manager and William Brewer as captain.

At present the club holds membership in the New York State Young Farmers' Club, and also claims the honor of being one of the pioneers in the formation of the Agriculture Club of New York State, the first of which was organized in 1920.

Much of the success of the club is due to the untiring work of the agricultural teacher, Mr. K. H. Musa, whose departure next year will be greatly regretted.

Students' Association

WHEN school opened in the fall the Junior High and Senior High Student's Associations were combined into one large organization. The reason for this was that, in previous years, the two organizations were working against each other because each was ignorant of what the other was doing. This caused a great deal of disturbance and, in some cases, even embarrassment.

When the new organization was formed, it was so large, that it was found almost impossible, in the short time allotted, to transact the business which came before it. After several weeks of deliberation, the students decided to model the government of the association somewhat after the Constitution of the United States. With this in mind, a constitution, providing for a Cabinet, a House of Representatives, President, Vice-President, Secretary, and Treasurer, was drawn up and adopted. According to this constitution the President is to be a Senior elected by the entire student body. He presides over the meetings of the Cabinet and the House. The Vice-President is to be a Junior who shall likewise be elected by the student body. His duty shall be to conduct the meetings in the absence of the President. The Secretary is chosen by the students and may be from any class. The Treasurer shall be a member of the faculty.

The Cabinet consists of fourteen members chosen as follows: three from the Senior class, three from the Junior class, two from the Sophomore class, two from the Freshmen class, one from the eighth grade, one from the seventh grade, one from Senior High faculty, and one from the Junior High faculty.

The duties of this department are to make all appointments for student offices, such as the managers of the various teams, and all other officers of student organizations.

The House of Representatives is elected by each class according to enrollment—one representative for every five members.

The work of the Representatives is to approve or reject the appointments of the Cabinet by a two-thirds vote. This method of voting is used as a check and balance system, the House acting as a check upon the Cabinet and visa versa, so that neither body overpowers the other. This form of student government has proved very efficient in managing student affairs and will probably be a permanent institution in Webster High School.

Appreciation to Advertisers

WE owe much to our friends, the advertisers, who have helped to make possible the publishing of this book. Whatever success the Reveille has attained is in a large way due to their support.

We, the staff, sincerely appreciate the assistance they have given us, and urge our readers to patronize these concerns which have shown such a spirit of co-operation.

What Others Are Saying:

OGDEN L. MILLS in the February "Survey Graphic" tells what the proponents of the Power Authority should be called upon to show.

Its proponents should show definitely:

1. "That the Power Authority can build and operate power plants as cheaply or more cheaply than private enterprise. This involves three factors: a, construction; b, finance; c, operation.

2. "That the benefits to the consumers will be sufficiently great to justify the abandonment of private initiative and enterprise in favor of government operation.

3. "That the plan will safeguard the business interests of the state and protect the public from exploitation.

4. "That the system of leases under the Federal Power Act and the state power law are inadequate to protect the public interests."

Jokes

In French class while doing some exercises numbered alphabetically, Miss Fillmore said, "g. Let me see." which was really the first sentence in exercise g.

When the boys were throwing erasers in Study Hall, Miss Stone was heard to remark, "There will be more than erasers striking you in a minute if you don't quiet down."

In English class Miss Knight asked, "What is another thing which makes poetry besides rhyme and rythm?" Lewis Pinkley replied, "The poet." Miss Knight answered, "I said thing."

Miss Knight: Mary Strozzi, you haven't handed in any homework for Monday and Tuesday, and Alan Hill you're in the same boat with her.

Do Some Thinking

ARE you spending much time actually thinking about yourself? A few mniutes sober thought is often worth a great deal. Learn to think. If you have not made the progress you should---find the reason.

If you have never thought of a bank account---think of that, too---it is a good idea. A growing bank account will take care of your future requirements.
